Guessing What Russia Will Do Is Dangerous, Says General Bradley

By EDWIN HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON—(P)—A warning by Gen. Omar Bradley that it is "dangerous to try to guess" what Russia will do backgrounder the start of Senate debate today on a $7,535,750,000 foreign aid program designed to confront Communist force with force.

Socialite Steals $10,000 Jewels

MINEOLA, N. Y. — (P) — A young Long Island matron who is listed in the social register also had her name on a police blotter today, accused of stealing $10,000 in gems from the home of a friend.

Nassau county Chief of Detectives Stuyvesant Pinnell said yesterday that Mrs. Ethel Carhart Jones Taylor, 25, signed a statement admitting she took the jewels from the Syosset, N. Y., home of Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Chew Welch last March 29.

Mrs. Taylor's husband, is an executive in a New Jersey airplane parts factory, the detective said. Her father, Warner L. Jones, a New York broker, has estates at Glen Head, N. Y., and Aiken, S. C.

The social register also lists Mrs. Welch. Her husband, Earle, is a young banker.

Pinnell said Mrs. Taylor was arrested at her New Hyde Park home after three pieces of the jewelry, located in a Manhattan store, were traced to her as the seller. Three other pieces were found at her home, Pinnell said.

Mrs. Taylor said she had "thrown the rest (of the jewels) in the Atlantic ocean," the detective said.

Only Mess Sergeant Has Stomach Ache In Camp At Grayling

IONIA, Mich.—(P)—Only one member of company H, Ionia's National Guard unit, became ill during two weeks training at Camp Grayling. He was the mess sergeant.

Sergeant first class Jesse Youmans, 33, of Belding, came down with stomach ulcers. He had to undergo an operation at Grayling hospital two days before the encampment ended last weekend.

Ionia National Guardsmen, back home today, said they couldn't understand it. All the fellows thought the food was fine.

Chinese Reds Seize Christian Orphanage And Charge Cruelty

TOKYO — (P)—The Communists' Mukden radio today said Chinese Reds have seized another Christian orphanage on grounds of "cruelty" and "unsanitary conditions."

The broadcast alleged more than 400 orphans had died "because of cruel treatment and unsanitary conditions."

It added that there were only nine orphans and 52 elderly inmates when the orphanage was seized.

The Reds have seized a number of orphanages on similar charges. Often children are so sick and wasted when they reach orphanages that they die despite the care given them.

Teen-Agers Sport Dixie Flags On Cars

PATERSON, N. J.—(P)—A new teen-age fad of ornamenting automobiles with miniature Confederate flags spread today despite protests from "northern sympathizers."

Youngsters in the Paterson-Passaic area display the Dixie banners on car radiators and radio antennas, much to the dismay of many Paterson residents.

The sons of union veterans, a group here, yesterday termed the fad as "dangerous" and "improper and entirely out of order."

American Artillery Blasts Communists Attacking In Korea

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR
U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(P)—Communist troops built up their strength along the Korean front today despite clearing weather which exposed them to allied air and artillery attacks.

A sudden break in the rainy spell also brought on a jet battle along the Korean-Manchurian border. Sixty Red and allied jets swirled from 8 down to 2½ miles above the earth in a bloodless dogfight.

Reinforcements Move Up
Red ground reinforcements were spotted moving up to the lines in the iron triangle sector of the central front and east of the Kaesong neutral area on the western front. They moved in groups of 100 to 200.

Red assault troops lashed out in a series of pre-dawn attacks along the eastern front but pulled back to their own lines by daylight to escape the blasting fire of American artillery.

On the extreme eastern flank South Koreans attacked a Communist hill position west of Kaesong just before noon. The battle raged into mid-afternoon as the Reds rushed up reinforcements.

Jets Tangle
Only reported Red gain was north of Yanggu, 27 miles to the southwest. The Communists overran a South Korean command post, forcing the United Nations unit to pull back after an intense pitched battle.

Twenty U. S. Sabre jets tangled with about 40 Red-nosed MIG-15s along the Yalu river boundary in northwest Korea. The Reds broke off the fight before any hits were scored.

Eight B-29 Superforts from Japan rained capacity bomb loads on Reds unloading supplies at Maengjung brought by train from Manchuria to ferry across the rain swollen Chogcheon river.

Helicopters rescued 72 allied soldiers caught by a flash flood along the western front on a broken pontoon bridge in the Imjin river.

Six Gls Drown In Imjin Flood

MUNSAN, Korea — (P) — Six American soldiers drowned when the rapidly rising Imjin river trapped and overturned their truck last night.

Seven companions on the truck escaped.

Seventy-two other allied soldiers stranded by the erratic river were rescued by helicopters. Fourteen of them were saved after six hours on a broken pontoon bridge, fending off debris that threatened to sweep their pontoon from its precarious perch in the dark.

The men swept off the truck drowned in full view of their buddies on both banks of the Imjin. The Army withheld their names.

The tragedy occurred on the eerie gleam of floodlights trying to pierce the rain.

Lights were turned on after this truck stalled about 30 feet from shore. Aboard were 13 men of the 24th division returning to the United Nations side of the river from patrol duty on the west bank.

The river rose 22 feet in 20 hours yesterday. It dropped sharply today.

Takeoff Of Hughes Flying Lumberyard Plane Delayed Again

LOS ANGELES — (P) — Howard Hughes' $19,000,000 eight-engine plywood plane, dubbed the "Flying Lumberyard," will not be launched Sept. 1 as scheduled, and the takeoff may be delayed as much as three months because of "powerplant" trouble, a spokesman said.

The wooden craft hasn't been airborne since Hughes took it off the water in a taxiing test several years ago.

Allies Prepared To Go On With Truce Dickers

Fake Bombing Raid Incident Ignored

By DON HUTH

TOKYO—(P)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway put it squarely up to the Communists today to decide the fate of Korean war truce talks.

The United Nations commander curtly refused to reinvestigate the alleged Kaesong bombing incident. But he said the Allies would resume armistice negotiations whenever the Reds are ready to end their "unjustifiable delay" of the conference.

The general view here was that Ridgway's 116-word message to the top Communist commanders left them almost no alternatives but to back down or break off the disrupted conferences completely.

Ridgway did not even mention the Communist demand that he admit a U. N. plane bombed the truce site. He has called the whole incident a fraud.

His message to the North Korean Premier, Kim Il Sung, and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai dealt only with their request that he send his liaison officers back to Kaesong to look at new evidence.

"A reinvestigation after this lapse of time," Ridgway said, "could serve no purpose other than to continue this unjustifiable delay in the Armistice negotiations."

The U. N. commander observed that during the original investigation a few hours after the asserted bombing the night of Aug. 22, a Red liaison officer "specifically refused the requests of my liaison officer to continue the investigation during daylight and to leave all of the alleged evidence in place."

The U. N. command has said this all along. It was a flat contradiction of a statement in the message from Kim and Peng to which Ridgway was replying.

The Red generals said "we did not on the night of the 22nd reject your making of the reinvestigation in daylight."

Ridgway's note told the Reds "when you are prepared" to resume truce talks "I will direct my representatives to meet with yours, with a view to seeking a reasonable armistice agreement."

The Reds broke off the deadlocked negotiations last Thursday because of the asserted bombing incident.

Copper Dispute May Be Tossed Right Back To President

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) took over the copper strike at President Truman's request today amid signs it would toss the dispute back to the White House if the walkout continues.

The board has asked the striking Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union, along with a dozen AFL and other unions idled by picket lines, to go back to work while it holds hearings in the dispute.

The Independent Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union refused but said it would have a delegation at today's hearings.

Some officials said the board would ask the strikers to show cause why they should not call off the strike, which has cut off 95 per cent of the nation's copper production. Lead and zinc output, along with sulphuric acid, also have been cut by the walkout over wage and other contract demands.

Should the strike continue after the board's show-cause hearing, Mr. Truman may be advised that the board cannot proceed.

The next likely step would be to invoke the emergency provision of the Taft-Hartley act, which calls for a court injunction against the strike after a board of inquiry looks into the facts.

That would take about 10 days during which the national copper stockpiles may be reduced to a dangerous level. They already are critically low.

The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers want the federal government to press the industry into acceptance of an overall increase of 20½ cents an hour, some ten cents less than the union had originally asked. Wages now run from $1.31 for service laborers to $1.62 for miners. Bnt Kennecott Copper, one of the industry's "big four," rejected the proposed settlement.

Poison Bread Brings Madness And Death In South Of France

By JOSEPH DYNAN

PARIS — (P) — Poisoned bread was blamed today for a bizarre illness in the south of France which has taken four lives, driven people mad and forced some to attempt suicide. Three other towns reported epidemics of ordinary food poisoning.

Strange tales of "bread that makes men mad" came from the tiny Rhone River port of Pont St. Esprit, where four persons have died since the weird malady struck Aug. 17.

At least 200 persons have called for urgent medical care and some said their brains were wracked by hallucinations of being surrounded by flames or monsters.

Physicians found that all those stricken had eaten bread from the same bakeries. Some bread was thrown into the river and the fish died. Authorities are thinking of banning fishing in the river. The use of flour from a number of mills supplying the town already has been banned.

One theory is that the flour was poisoned with ergot, a cereal parasite which flourishes in rainy years. Officials thought the illness might be a recurrence of "fervent fever" known during the middle ages to have been caused by ergot and to have driven men mad.

They've given some of the bread to mice and the mice have become paralyzed.

White Elected In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. — (P)—States Rights Leader Hugh L. White, 70-year-old former governor of Mississippi, today appeared headed for a new four year term as chief executive.

White was governor from 1936 to 1940 and, if elected again, will be the second man in the state's history to win the office twice.

The late U. S. Senator Theo. G. (The Man) Bilbo was the first.

Nearly complete unofficial returns gave White a 9,970 vote lead over 35-year-old Paul B. Johnson, Jr., in yesterday's runoff Democratic primary.

Democratic nomination is equivalent to election in this one-party state. The winner will take office Jan. 12, 1952.

No Games Of Chance At Fair In Detroit

LANSING — (P)—The lid was clamped on all games of chance at this year's State Fair by Attorney General Frank G. Millard today.

Millard wrote Wayne County Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien: "This office has received information that when the fair opens next Friday numerous games will be operated in which merchandise is given as a prize. You are advised that this is contrary to the laws of the State of Michigan just as much as if the prize were actual cash."

Millard's letter outlined the state law and supreme court decisions which held, he said, that games of skill as well as games of chance which offer any kind of prize are illegal.

Crushed Under Car

DETROIT — (P)—Sixteen months old Gail Sue Taylor was crushed to death Tuesday under a car driven by her mother, Mrs. Jean Taylor, 24, in suburban Centerline.

Mrs. Taylor was looking out her side of her car in backing out of a driveway and did not see the child topple out of the other side, state police reported.

Head Of Hawaii Sugar Strikers Nabbed As Red

By LEIF ERICKSON

HONOLULU — (P) — An accused Communist, free on $5,000 bail, today leads militant sugar workers in wage talks with the management of the territory's $120,000,000-a-year sugar industry.

He is hulking Jack W. Hall, Wisconsin-born leader of Hawaii's Sugar and Pineapple Workers and Longshoremen.

Hall, five other men and one woman were arrested yesterday in a dramatic series of FBI raids that carried the national roundup of suspected Communists into Hawaii.

All were charged with conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Twenty-eight members of Hall's union held a closed-door meeting with him in the office of U. S. Marshal Otto Heine after the arrests.

"Since Jack couldn't come to us, we had to come to him," said a union spokesman. The meeting, previously scheduled, was to hear a subcommittee report on negotiations for a sugar contract effective Saturday.

With Hall's release on bail, however, negotiations will continue tomorrow at Hilo on Hawaii Island with Hall present.

At stake is another year of peace or strife for Hawaii's major industry, which lost millions of dollars in a 1946 strike that lasted 70-odd days.

Acheson Ouster Put Up To VFW

NEW YORK — (P)—A new resolution asking President Truman to replace Secretary of State Dean Acheson has been placed before the Veterans of Foreign Wars at their current 52nd national encampment.

The resolution is a carry-over from last year's encampment in Chicago, where the VFW asked Acheson's removal without using his name.

However, the new proposal, sponsored by delegations from California and Florida, names Acheson and says he "has lost the confidence of the people" while "attempting to fulfill the heavy responsibilities of his office."

It calls upon the president to "accept the resignation of the secretary of state and replace him with one whose qualifications are sufficient to meet the mounting world crisis and who has the confidence of the American public."

The resolution may come to a vote today along with another urging Mr. Truman to act further in the case of Associated Press Correspondent William M. Oatis, imprisoned by Red Czechoslovakia on spy charges.

Wife Of Dr. Townsend Is Taken By Death

LOS ANGELES — (P)—Ill for more than a year, Mrs. Wilhelmina Bogue Townsend, 81, wife of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old pension advocate, succumbed yesterday. She suffered a stroke a year ago and declined steadily.

Born in Milwaukee, Mrs. Townsend met her husband while he was practicing medicine in the Black Hills area of South Dakota. They were married there and had a son, Robert Craig Townsend, now living at Medway, Ohio. Mrs. Townsend had a daughter by a previous marriage, Mrs. Irene Shevling.

Welfare Hikes Delta's Cost Of Government To Record Five-Year High

Welfare and medical assistance — Delta county's thriving baby with the big appetite—ate up nearly 61 per cent of all funds disbursed for county government functions in 1950, the auditor general's office reports.

This left only slightly more than 39 per cent remaining for all other county purposes, including administrative and operating expense, and county roads.

Annual audit reports of Delta county books and records by the auditor general's department reveals that rising welfare and medical assistance costs have boosted the cost of county government in 1950 to the highest point in the past five years.

14.42 Per Capita
The 1950 report shows that Delta county has a population of 32,913 and that the per capita total cost of county government functions was $23.71. This was an increase of $9.53 per capita over the 1946 total of $14.18.

Welfare and medical assistance, major item in county costs each year, increased $8.64 per capita in the same five-year period, from $5.78 in 1946 to $14.42

Iron Mt. Ford Deal Explained

Citizens Are Urged To Have Faith

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich.—“This community faces a definite challenge in the weeks and months ahead — a challenge of faith in the future of Iron Mountain-Kingsford and in the part which all of us, as residents here, must play in that future.”

Walter G. Nelson, newly elected president of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford chamber of commerce, told committee chairmen of the chamber at a meeting last night. It was Nelson's first meeting as president of the organization.

Mr. Nelson, as superintendent of the Ford plant in Kingsford and manager of Northern Michigan operations for the Ford Motor company, briefly discussed the plan of the company for the sale of its Iron Mountain property and emphasized the economic potentials of the plant in the light of its maximum usefulness to the new operators—whenever they may be.

The superintendent brought out that negotiations for the sale have not reached the point where the purchasers can be publicly identified, but he expressed complete confidence—in view of what the plant has to offer—that the new operators will maintain a highly diversified activity. In that connection Nelson listed the physical assets of the plant, including the steam-generated and hydro-electric power units, chemical plant, sawmill and other departments which, he emphasized, are modern, complete and the most efficient of their kind and function to be found anywhere.

“It may reasonably be assumed,” he concluded, “that the new owner — operators will ultimately use these facilities to the utmost of their productive capacity. They may even, as time goes on, add to them.”

Local taxes collected in 1946 totaled $153,390 or 91 per cent of the total levy; in 1950 the collection was up to $191,768 because of higher property valuations — but the percentage of collections was down to 88.77.

Highway Aid Down

State aid to welfare and medical assistance in the past five years has increased from about 21 per cent in 1946 to 34 per cent in 1950; but for highways it has declined from 37 per cent to 22.49. The state auditors report they found the books and records of the county in good order. They made minor comments and recommendations for some of the offices, in general urging that the board of supervisors have county officials and employees make use of official travel vouchers, and there is the repeated note concerning failure to enforce the state dog licensing law in the county.

The cost of county government functions on a per capita basis for Delta county for the past five years is presented in the following table:

Efforts To Block Gasoline Tax Boost Are Politically Inspired

EFFORTS to repeal the recent gasoline tax increase and the filing of referendum petitions are politically inspired, without due regard to the state's highway financing problem.

The gasoline tax increase went into effect three months ago. Motorists have had sufficient experience with the effect of the new tax to know that it has not had a really serious impact upon their pocket-books. And yet the new tax is bringing in the additional funds that are required for state highway rebuilding and to meet the street and road problem of county road commissions and the cities.

Inflation has hit road building particularly hard. Anyone willing to use his own common sense knows that today's dollar will not buy as much road construction or road maintenance as it did 10 years ago. The only possible solution is more revenue—and that is what the gasoline tax increase provides.

The gas tax increase has become a political issue because Governor Williams vetoed the bill in an effort to force a corporation profits tax as a replacement. The gas tax is a fair tax because it provides that the motorists who use the roads will pay for them in direct proportion to the amount of their usage.

It is still uncertain whether sufficient petitions have been filed to force a referendum on the gas tax issue. It also is still

Reds Will Cause Trouble At Jap Treaty Talks

THE United States does not believe any good can come from Russia's decision to take part in the Japanese peace treaty conference at San Francisco next month.

First of all, the Soviet Union plainly has no intention of signing the treaty. The Kremlin is expected, therefore, to use every device at its command to obstruct or delay its approval by the free world.

To understand what lies ahead, we have to remember that industrial Japan and Germany are prime objectives in Russia's projected course of world conquest. Hence Moscow cannot sit idly by and watch Japan pass into the Western orbit, as would be the case under the proposed treaty.

In accepting a bid to attend at San Francisco, the Russians informed the West they would have their own treaty proposals to offer. They do not expect to win general endorsement of these, nor can they block the signing of the tentatively approved pact. There will be no veto at the conference, and any nation that wishes may sign.

At the very minimum, the Russians intend to exploit the meeting for propaganda purposes. They see it as a forum comparable to the United Nations, since the world's eyes will be upon San Francisco in September.

But they certainly have larger hopes. India, Burma, Indonesia and the Philippines indicate they dislike some features of the treaty draft. The Soviet Union, failing broader gains, will probably strive to persuade these and other Asiatic countries not to sign. It might then be able to win the label, "white man's treaty," on the document fashioned so painstakingly by John Foster Dulles and others.

Beyond that, the Russians may seek indefinite delay on a general signing of the pact, by diverting participants' attention to prospects of a broad Far Eastern settlement.

On the other hand, Moscow might stall the Korean negotiations until the San Francisco session is well under way. It might then try to fit them into a wider Far Eastern settlement, possibly with the idea of trading a cease-fire for political concessions affecting Formosa and Communist China.

Clearly the possibilities are legion. Of one thing Western diplomats are positive. Russia's entry into the peace treaty scene spells trouble. The history of Soviet participation in international conferences from 1945 on is a frustrating story of delay, disruption, confusion and futility. No one figures it to be different this time.

'Do-Less-Than-Nothing 82nd Congress'

PRESIDENT TRUMAN called the Republican 80th Congress a "do-nothing" assembly. Let's see how it stacks up with its successors in work done.

As of Aug. 10, 1947, the 80th had passed 338 public laws. By the same date in 1949, the later 81st Congress had approved 220. The present 82nd Congress finished work on just 110 in the same period.

Quantity, of course, shouldn't be the prime measure of performance. But by the test of quality, the 82nd looks worse if anything. Efforts of congressional leaders to suggest that this sorry progress represents the extremely careful deliberations of wise statesmen look pretty foolish.

Rushing

By Gordon Martin

We are oftentimes inclined to squawk about our lack of time, and we start in fighting clocks each day when out of bed we climb. We declare that life goes rushing by at far too fast a pace, and no matter where it is we go, we always run a race. But while hectic daily living always causes us to stew, we delight to rush the calendar in everything we do.

Just pick up a monthly magazine arriving with the mail, and you find that it's the future, not the present, that they hail. Though you get it in September, it bespeaks the months ahead, and its cover bears October's name with big Thanksgiving spread. It's the same with Sunday comics in the middle of the week, and The Post, though named for Saturday, provides a Wednesday peek.

But it isn't just the eagerness of magazines and such, which compels to give our hurried life a futuristic touch. It's in early spring that Uncle Sam demands to know the worst—how much income tax you'll owe him by December thirty-first. Though we beef about our lack of time, it's still a fact so true, that we always rush the calendar in everything we do.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DR. HUGH BENNETT
Chief of the Department of Agriculture's
Soil Conservation Service

WASHINGTON — The recent Midwestern floods have again shown with stark reality that the day of piecemeal flood control must end. Truly effective flood control must protect the millions of farmers on the land and in the small creek bottoms as well as our great cities and major river valleys.

In those July floods we had graphic proof that no single method of flood control can do the whole, watershed-wide job. We saw how some of our best soils became so saturated with the rains of May and June that even the pastures could absorb little more when the final big rain came. Even so, the water-holding capacity of the soil helped moderate the effects of the run-off. Likewise, we saw how downstream levees, high enough to have withstood the largest previous flood, were overtopped by this superflood of July.

We are confronted with one inescapable conclusion: Our efforts to prevent and control flood damages, wherever they occur, must begin where the rains first hit the earth and must not end until the flood water reaches the ocean.

By observing this principle, we can at the same time provide protection to every part of the watershed, both down stream and upstream. We not only can bring the water under better control but we also can reduce the silt carried by flood waters. In many cases silt is more destructive to property than water itself.

Most of this silt consists of eroded soil, washed out of upstream farms and overgrazed pastures. Great quantities of it are laid down in fertile bottomland. It destroys crops and, in case of frequent sandy deposits, lowers the productivity of the land for generations to come.

There was tremendous destruction in the upper watersheds during the Midwestern floods. Along the headwater streams, above those points where major flood control works have been recommended, the flood damage exceeded 100 million dollars. Above the flooded valleys, the storm caused an estimated 110 million dollars of crop loss.

It has been estimated that about 75 per cent of the over-all flood damage in the country, year in and year out, occurs back along the lesser tributary streams above the bottomlands of the major channels. In the long run, however, the greatest damage from these tremendous storms is the erosion that takes place on upland farms. Seldom do the costly effects of erosion on these upland slopes make the headlines of our newspapers.

Although it is questionable whether dollars and cents can express the true value of the millions of tons of irreplaceable topsoil lost, the decreased productivity of these eroded upland farms is estimated at more than 200 million dollars.

These figures do not take into account other downstream damages, such as deposition in river channels, reservoirs, wells and drainage ditches. What we have read about flood damage has related largely to city property, bridges and highways. And this was terrible indeed. Still, much of this damage can be repaired. But we can do little to remove the layers of infertile sand spread deeply over thousands of acres of productive bottomlands. We can't haul back into eroded fields the top soil that has been carried into the Gulf of Mexico.

Experience has proved that we can come pretty close to controlling floods on small tributary streams. With good conservation measures and upstream retarding structures, the small streams will not overflow so destructively even when we get rains like those in the Midwest. But that part of the water which reaches the larger streams must be controlled by dams, levees and other measures.

At present, the run-off from upland farms in small watersheds has not been properly controlled because farmers cannot get all the technically trained help they want and need to do the soil and water conservation job adequately on their own farms. And funds are not generally available for construction of small upstream dams and channel improvements.

So, in the recent floods in Kansas, Missouri, and neighboring states water went into the small streams much faster than it would if we had a watershed program for flood control.

Survey Of Nation Reveals Living Standards Are Hurt By Inflation

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK —(NEA)— The question was: "Has inflation caused you to lower your standard of living?"

An Atlanta postman replied: "Yes. Not only have luxuries been lopped off, but I'm getting along with old clothing and have had to sell the car."

A pharmacist in the same city: "I've had to cut down on everything, including baby food, which I can buy at reduced prices."

A Dallas policeman: "My standard of living is kind of shaky."

A fireman in Cleveland: "Yes, considerably. For example, it's cut out just about all of our entertainment. We used to go out occasionally, but can't any more. We don't entertain at home any more. We've been losing ground since 1939."

But a Chicago businessman said: "No, it has caused an increase."

And a San Francisco housewife responded with: "It will remain just about the same."

The question was one of half a dozen put to housewives, businessmen, factory workers, teachers, cab drivers, public service employees, widows and pensioners in a sweeping NEA inflation survey covering major U. S. cities from coast to coast.

NEA's reporters asked people about their living standards, their savings, the effect of taxes on their living habits, what they are or are not buying in the way of food, clothing, automobiles, household furnishings, and why.

The replies drawn from ordinary Americans all over the land contain no evidence that inflation has yet gnawed fatally into the nation's economy. But neither do they offer cheering news for business, for Congress, or the Administration.

This dispatch will deal largely with the inquiries about savings, taxes and living standards. A second will scan the reports on people's current buying habits.

About four out of every seven who answered the standard of living question said they were indeed worse off than they had been before. And of those who did not so complain, many indicated they were just managing to hold their own because pay increases had matched price boosts.

In the New York City area, the survey learned that people generally felt that, were it not for inflation, they would be enjoying a much better standard of living, since in many cases salaries haven't kept pace with price increases.

In every city the survey touched, the answers to all questions conveyed the notion that money is tighter, or at least that people believe it is. They are more cautious with what they have to spend. If the survey is an accurate reflection, they have less of it in reserve than they did a year ago.

Two of every three persons queried felt he would be hurt by the higher taxes now shaping up in Congress. Apparently only the uncertain size of the added tax bite may have kept a lot of others from voicing the same view.

Four times as many people say their savings today are smaller as say they have grown since 1950. And for every three who say they're smaller, two note they've just barely been able to hold their reserves about the same.

A Chicago mechanic declared: "I'm just living from week to week. I can't save anything."

A St. Louis accountant: "Savings have gone as usual, but I find that increasingly I have had to borrow back from them."

A Los Angeles movie studio publicity man answered with a brief, petulant query of his own: "Savings?"

But in Dallas a housewife reported: "Savings have remained stable."

And a St. Louis registered nurse said: "Savings have increased in the past year."

Aside, however, from the relatively handful who said their savings were bigger, nobody sounded particularly happy about the state of his reserves. Many who said they were still on even keel spoke as if they couldn't prevent a drop in savings much longer.

The prospect of higher taxes this fall further clouds the picture for people who have seen their spending leeway steadily diminish in the months just passed.

"Yes, more taxes will hurt," observed a Cleveland bus driver. "I guess the new income taxes will more than wipe out the last raise we got."

A low income office worker in Chicago said simply: "I'll buy less."

A San Francisco postman had no doubts: "Higher taxes will naturally modify my buying habits."

New Yorkers were less sure of the outlook. Summarizing their responses to the tax question, a reporter said:

"Most people do not know how much they will have to pay under the new tax law, so they can't answer accurately whether or not they'll be affected."

But in Atlanta, two people living on fixed incomes—this group is usually hardest hit by inflation and rising taxes—said higher levies probably wouldn't bother them much. A barber in the same city held the same view.

Yet the optimists on taxes were definitely a minority. And the overall impact of the survey suggested that the U. S. economy is trending close to the line where higher taxes and a few more price increases might inflict serious economic pain on most consumers.

People's replies to questions about their buying habits underscore this situation. Two out of three aren't buying cars, furniture, refrigerators, stoves and other household goods. Many have given up eating expensive beef and are eating pork or cheaper beef cuts.

Overwhelmingly, they cite lack of money or high prices to explain why they've clamped a tighter lid on their buying.

These are the findings of NEA's survey. And they are fortified by the somewhat discouraging official statistics which confirm that the average American isn't buying cars, iceboxes, vacuum cleaners and TV sets with the fervor he showed a few months back.

So They Say

The diets of both Maori and pakeha (white man) are deteriorating. It's this modern craze or vegetables and fruit. The old idea was to feed the fruit and vegetables to the pig and then eat the pig. Physiologically, I am sure, this was correct.—Dr. George M. Smith, New Zealand medical man.

Americans look good kissing on the screen because of the beautiful shape of their profile. Sharp noses, big eyes and mouth. Orientals have small noses and different face structure and it doesn't look the same.—Shirley Yamaguchi, Japanese actress.

The dictionary describes perfectly what I mean by "star": a self-illuminated body. The great star must be able to throw this illumination across the toughest distance in the world—the 10 feet between screen and audience.—Jerry Wald, motion picture producer.

No one will be able to explain to me why some people find it impossible to identify a Communist unless he is beyond the three-mile limit.—James S. Kemper, chairman Lumbermen Mutual Casualty Co.

If you are married to a rich woman, you are accused of seeking her money. And if you are mean to her . . . you are also a dead duck.—Prince Igor Troubetzkoy.

Every well-dressed man should have at least 30 pairs of shoes in his closet.—W. Maxey Jarman, shoe manufacturer.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN
MARVELOUS MAYHEM—"He asked for it!" she shouted when the officers came to arrest her and the undertaker arrived to cart off the body of her husband, done to death by a butcher knife in the hands of his wife.

Murder and crimes of violence are on the increase in the country, indicating disturbed personalities reacting passionately to personal problems. Signs of the times? Suppose we take a look, as the country boy said to his pal at the peep show.

Newspaper headlines tell pitiable stories of teen-age dope addiction, examination cheating at West Point, murder, rape and robbery armed.

Older and wiser heads do a lot of shaking and come to the awful conclusion that we are now in a decadent and crime-ridden condition due to—well, due to "the times."

OUT OF THE PAST—It was different in the "good old days" they will have you know. Folks then were God-fearing and virtuous; sin was almost unknown, and life was real and earnest.

But some of the most famous murders in American history occurred during Colonial times, superstitious cults dunked helpless old ladies in ponds to soak the witchery out of their systems, and young ladies were abducted and held in bondage or carried off into "white slavery" and a fate worse than death.

In fact villains were so black and villainous so rampant that a young girl would never venture out after dark unless accompanied by a brother or trusted male companion.

NOT SO LONG AGO—And if you want to go back a shorter period of time, say when mother was a girl, let's turn the pages back to 1920—dear old, good old 1920.

Let's check the Escanaba Daily Press (then the Morning Press) files of that year.

At Adrian, Mich., a Chinese restaurant owner is suing a 17-year-old white girl for divorce. She married him for his money, derides him publicly, has threatened to kill him. Besides, she is a poor cook.

The government was hearing in U. S. district court charges that Senator Newberry of Detroit had bribed his victory in the 1918 primary election; and at the Straits of Mackinaw the boats were running again after settlement of a strike.

And in 1920 "one marriage in every ten" ends in the divorce court, records of the Delta county clerk reveal.

LOVE IN BLOOM—At an Escanaba theater a movie "Oh, Boy!" is being presented complete with chorus of girls who "disport themselves in a lively manner in the art of jazz dancing."

And at Escanaba, also, an aging marine "captain" is living with an Indian girl who, authorities say, is only 15. The authorities want proof the girl is 16 before they will issue a marriage license. The girl has been presented with a mink coat and the family insists she is 16 years old.

But the big national scandal in sports is the draft evasion charge against Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, and his manager, Jack Kearns. They are hiding out somewhere near San Francisco.

MONEY AND BLOOD—In New York City police are looking for Nicholas Anstien, charged with $5 million dollar bond robbery. His wife? Fanny Brice.

The windy city of Chicago gets attention with a gory murder, "Big Tim" McCoy is under arrest for the murder of his wife. They are looking for missing parts of her body in an apartment house basement.

In Pittsburgh Antoinette Bonner, "Diamond Queen," swallows poison when caught with gems valued at $2,000; ouija board players in California are jailed as "insane"; and the drinking of "corn juice" sold by an "itinerant bootlegger" killed three men in a lumber camp near Watson.

That was 30 years ago. The world is still going to the dogs in 1951.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby Jr.

READERS' CORNER

Louisville: Can one speak of an army as being debauched?—Mrs. S. R. C.

Answer: Well, certainly not of an American army!

The French once used the word baucha to mean "shop," and the verb debaucher meant "to lure away from a shop," hence, to corrupt. Debaucher entered English as debauch, which came to mean "to lead away from purity, excellence, or virtue."

A debauched army, then, would be one whose excellence had been undermined.

St. Wayne: Recently I ordered some merchandise by letter. I received a reply stating that I had not stipulated the correct sizes. Is the word stipulate used correctly in that sense?—R. L.

Answer: Stipulate has come to be used loosely as a synonym for specify. Strictly speaking, however, to stipulate means to state a condition of an agreement.

Etymologists are not in agreement as to the exact origin of stipulate. Trench and Shipley trace it to the Latin stipula, meaning "straw," because, they say, it was a Roman custom that when two persons made an agreement, they would break a straw between them which amounted to binding the oral agreement.

Dr. W. W. Skeat says not so. His theory is that stipulate comes from the Old Latin stipulus, "firm, fast," which in turn is allied to stipos, "post."

But "post" or "straw," all agree that stipulate has always meant "to come to terms," or "to promise," and that use of it to mean "specify" is inaccurate.

Hence, the customer may stipulate (promise to pay) the price of $5 if the article ordered meets all qualifications which the merchant has previously quoted. Generally speaking, however, it is the merchant (seller) who stipulates that for the price of $5, the buyer receives the particular size, color, and quality ordered.

In other words, the customer specifies and the seller stipulates.

FHA Program Is Outlined

Food For National Defense Chief Aim

Chief aim of farm families co-operating in the local program of the Farmers Home Administration this fiscal year will be to bring their farms to maximum efficiency and help produce the food, feed, and fiber needed for national defense, Robert B. Abbott, FHA county supervisor said today.

A large number of family farmers in Delta and Schoolcraft counties are currently using the agency's supervised credit to buy, enlarge, develop, or operate farms, or to improve inadequate housing. As a result, Abbott commented, these families are now better able to raise products in short supply. "The small farm", Abbott continued, "is the greatest potential source of domestic agricultural labor. Yet it is producing far below capability because land is not being effectively used and capital reserves or suitable credit is lacking. The Sparkman Committee of the United States Senate has pointed out that a million farm families over the Nation are only a third as productive as families on well-developed and well-organized family farms such as the Farmers Home Administration creates. Some of those farmers are here in this locality."

Abbott explained that his job and other county supervisors' jobs were to help borrower families arrange cropping systems that would make the best use of the land and, as far as possible, to work out programs to keep families fully employed on their farms.

Wild Birds Spreaders Of Sleeping Sickness, Researchers Discover

WASHINGTON—(P)—Government research has proved for the first time that wild birds help spread sleeping sickness.

The public health service in an announcement yesterday also said the disease, technically known as Encephalitis, has increased steadily since 1948.

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele said federal research workers in tests at Greeley, Colo., have found the virus of the disease in redwing blackbirds and magpies.

Dr. T. Aiden Cockburn, who worked on the experiment, said the birds themselves do not become "sick." Instead, they serve as carriers from which mosquitoes get the virus. Human beings become infected after being bitten by the mosquitoes.

The public health service said

Gas Tax Issue Perils Ferry

Menominee Hearing Has Squabble

MENOMINEE, Mich.—Injection of proposed repeal of the 1 1/2-cent increase in the state gasoline tax voted by the 1951 legislature into the discussions disrupted an otherwise harmonious session of the legislative hearing on ferry service between Menominee and Frankfort in the city hall Tuesday.

The gas tax issue caused a sharp exchange of verbal blows between State Senator Joseph P. Cloon of Wakefield and E. J. Eagen, president of Lloyd Local, UAW-CIO union that finally brought a mild rebuff from Rep. James Gouette, Iron Mountain, committee chairman, that discussion be kept within its "proper scope" which was whether the proposed ferry service was feasible.

Cloon raised the gasoline tax issue in discussing ways to finance the proposed ferry. He said the State Highway Department, which operates the state ferries at the Straits of Mackinac, reported a loss of $500,000 a year; that the state was adding a new ferry in October that will cost $5,000,000 and was spending about $1,000,000 on each end of the Straits for docking facilities to accommodate the newest ferry.

Cloon then launched into an attack on a proposal to repeal the gasoline tax increase voted by the last legislature through a referendum in 1952 and declared of the referendum was adopted and the tax increase repealed, there would be little likelihood of funds being available for the proposed Menominee-Frankfort state ferry.

Cloon blamed Michigan CIO leaders as instigators of the gas tax repeal and bluntly told the meeting that ferry service would be practically doomed unless the repeal efforts were defeated.

Governor Must Be Ignorant Of Law, Attorneys Decide

LANSING — (P) — Governor Williams was "either ignorant of the law or he misstated the facts" when he commuted the prison sentence of a CIO United Auto Workers leader two weeks ago, it was charged today.

Attorney General Frank G. Millard and Prosecutor Joseph E. Killian of Berrien county made this statement following a conference on the case of Thomas W. Flynn, Berrien county union leader.

Flynn was sentenced to one and one-half to four years for damaging a car during a 1948 picket line disturbance at the Nylen Products Co. of St. Joseph.

His conviction was upheld by the state supreme court this spring.

Flynn began serving the sentence this July, but 30 days later the governor commuted the sentence. The governor contended Flynn had received excessive punishment under an ancient statute designed to punish the poisoning of livestock.

Millard and Killian, both Republicans, agreed there was nothing they could do to upset the commutation.

They said, however, that Flynn was prosecuted under a 1941 revision of an 1816 statute. The modern revision as well as the original statute contain sections separate from that dealing with livestock setting up penalties for damages to other personal property.

"So much for the ancientness of the law," said Killian. "He added that the section Flynn was prosecuted under has been used repeatedly by prosecutors and that therefore the punishment was not 'unusual' as Williams claimed."

State Fair Manager Says Gambling Ban Is Discrimination

DETROIT — (P) — Manager James T. Friel of the Michigan State Fair today accused Attorney General Frank G. Millard of discrimination in enforcement of gambling laws on fair midway.

"There's no question about it," said Friel when asked if he considers the ban more strictly enforced at the State Fair here than at county fairs around the state.

"They play bingo at Ionia, they play bingo at Caro, and they have all kinds of other gambling games at the county fairs, without interference," Friel said.

Baby Born In Taxi At Louisville, Ky. To Young Mother, 15

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(P)— Mrs. Ray Collins, 15, and her newest son—born in the back seat of a taxicab—were reported in good condition today.

So was the cab driver, Momer Pate.

The young mother, married at 13, said she sent her husband to work yesterday, changed her mind and telephoned him to take their 18-month-old son to a relative then pick her up.

Before the 18-year-old husband returned, Mrs. Collins had called a cab.

On the way to the hospital, Pate realized what was happening and radioed his office.

"I have a woman passenger and it looks like she is going to have a baby. What am I supposed to do?"

He was instructed to call police and have them meet the cab. By that time, the Collins' family had another heir weighing seven pounds, nine ounces.

The parents, Fred and Marie Rohlman, were at work at a factory.

The blaze, believed to have started in a mattress, swept the home.

Sioux City Cemetery Won't Take Indian Killed In Korea War

SIoux CITY, Ia.—(P)—A Winnebago Indian, killed in action in Korea, has been denied burial in Sioux City Memorial Park cemetery because he was not a member of the Caucasian race.

Mrs. Evelyn Rice of Winnebago, Neb., widow of Sgt. 1/c John R. Rice, 37, said cemetery authorities stopped the burial yesterday as the body was about to be lowered into the grave.

The widow, a white woman, said she did not know that Indians could not be buried there. Mrs. Rice said she bought the lot in the cemetery and signed the contract without noticing a clause which barred her husband from burial there.

Rice was killed in action Sept. 6, 1950, only two weeks after he landed in Korea, while serving with the Eighth regiment, first cavalry division. He also was a World War II veteran.

Leo Borman, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Borman who reside near Wilson, today will be taken by ambulance from the children's clinic at St. Luke's hospital, Marquette, to University hospital, Ann Arbor, for further diagnosis of an ailment at first reported as polio.

The boy entered the clinic at Marquette on Aug. 21. Some involvement of the leg muscles was reported at that time.

Bears Are Nuisance In Downtown Detour, Looking In Windows

DETOUR, Mich.—(P)—Big, bold bears are invading the downtown area of this Chippewa county community in the Upper Peninsula.

The 600 inhabitants like bears, but only as tourist attractions. They object to bears acting like peeping toms and scavengers.

One householder found a giant bear peeping inquiringly through a back window of his home. The bear took off before the indignant citizen could get a gun.

U. P. Engineers Return From Busy Camp Period

Having supported a large-scale infantry "attack" against an invading army in climactic maneuvers of Michigan's 46th National Guard division at Camp Grayling, all units of Upper Michigan's 107th Engineer Combat battalion returned from the 15-day annual encampment.

Another fine record was posted by the U. P. engineers both in the elaborate field problem and in the conduct of their training throughout the busy camp period, division officials reported. The U. P. battalion is composed of battalion headquarters and headquarters and service company of Ishpeming, Company A of Calumet, Company B of Marquette, Company C of Escanaba and Company D of Mani-stique. Delta county soldiers commanded by Capt. Roy J. Johnson returned to their armory at 400 North 23rd street late Saturday night and spent Sunday unloading equipment and reestablishing their headquarters at the Escanaba armory.

5th Postwar Camp

This year's encampment was the fifth annual field training period since World War II and again the U. P. engineers, now commanded by Major Leonard C. Ward, of Escanaba, demonstrated themselves amply capable of performing all engineer duties for Michigan's 46th division.

Traditionally, U. P. engineers have won the reputation of having as much or more spirit as any individual unit at Camp Grayling, and this year was no exception, it was reported.

"The division attack problem this year was part of a long range program prepared by the Department of Defense to provide uniform training for all National Guard units," Major Ward said. "Last year, the 46th supported by the engineers was on defense against an invading foe, but this year at Grayling, the division attacked a simulated foreign army which had theoretically invaded this country by sailing down the St. Lawrence river, capturing eastern Canada and Sault Ste. Marie's locks, crossed the Straits of Mackinac and advanced into Lower Michigan as far as Grayling."

Continue Training

The mock warfare, he pointed out, took place in a 20-mile square area in the Central Michigan forest east of Fredric and northeast of Grayling.

The enemy wore green uniforms and carried campaign plans written in Spanish which were captured and used as a means of repelling the invasion.

Artillery and air support were used in the two-day "battle" which called for all units at Camp Grayling to spend two nights in foxholes and bivouac areas. The entire problem was conducted under conditions as close to actual combat as is possible in peace time.

Back at their respective armories, the U. P. engineers will continue with weekly drill periods and special weekend training sessions now authorized by the Department of Defense in the speed-up military program.

Why Do You Recommend O-JIB-WA Mrs. Miller?

"I RECOMMEND O-JIB-WA BITTERS simply because it's the only medicine that helped my arthritis, and I'm grateful for what it has done for me."

Yes folks, for more than just temporary relief and for positive assurance of better results, you can't buy a better medicine than O-JIB-WA Bitters. Mrs. Edward S. Miller of Yale, Michigan recently made the following statement.

"Just a short time ago arthritis settled in all my joints from my hips to my feet. The pain and stiffness was terrible and I couldn't even move around to do my work, and for three weeks I couldn't even get out of bed. I tried several other treatments without results, and had about given up hope, when I heard about O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and decided to give it a trial. The results were really amazing to me, for at the end of a week, I began to improve, and in less than a month, the pains and stiffness had completely left me. Now, thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am entirely free of rheumatism and arthritis, and nothing tires me. O-JIB-WA is the only medicine that helped me, and I am always recommending it to other people."

Barkley States He'll Run Again

But He's Too Old,
Columnist Says

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—Dear Alben Barkley, without being asked at all, has just announced his willingness to serve as vice-president for another four years, delighting all us constituents who seek stout timber as a stand-in for the big man in case the big man happens to drop a little bit dead.

Alben is a mere colt of 73 at the moment, although it seems to me he was about the same age when he got to be veep. I expect you could call him ageless, since a man is only as young as he feels and dear Alben feels very frisky these days. He says blandly, wiping the drops from youth's fountain off his chin, that a man his age is as young as a man of 50 used to be, and that there's all sorts of public service left in the old chassis if only the public will give him the whistle.

It is true that time has weighted lightly on the old Romeo's neck, because his most arduous labor since his election has been kissing girls and making lightweight speeches. He got himself a young and pretty widow-woman for a wife, and has been the one gay note in an otherwise drab governmental setup. He has avoided public quarrels and holds his bourbon-and-branch very well indeed. He is a gentleman of fine breeding, considerable charm, and also considerable inability.

But dear Alben will be a red-hot 74 when office-running time comes round next year, and I don't want anybody that old as a vice-president. He just isn't a very good risk as spear carrier for the next four seasons. The job of playing throttlebottom is a joke, generally, and you could elect Gene Autrey's horse to the position and never know the difference—except. Once in an infrequent time of tragedy the big fellow does and there you are with a large lump of nothing running the country for you. As I recall we inherited Harry, who played out the role of pathetic little man for the duration of Roosevelt's reign, and succumbed to delusions of great grandeur as soon as he wiggled in on his own. The task of being president of the United States is the toughest, meanest, man-killingest chore in the books, and no man is young enough and healthy enough not to be a candidate for sudden death. Presidents get shot and fall dead from overwork. The least we owe ourselves is the insurance of having a good second card in the hole.

Respirator Dropped At Sea Fails To Sav. GI Victim Of Polio

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The dramatic parachuting at sea of a portable chest respirator failed to save the life of a G.I.

The Aiken Victory radioed that Corporal James A. Williams, 22, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was dead of polio. He had been placed in the respirator immediately after it had been taken aboard 871 miles from here Sunday.

A Coast Guard B-17 had dropped the 125-pound respirator in two waterproofed packages during a 12-hour flight.

When the ship sails through the Golden Gate with 1,491 army men, most of them Korea veterans, it will be flying the yellow quarantine flag.

The Army said the quarantine may last only the minimum of three hours but may be extended to several days. That depends on how long it takes to determine who was in contact with Williams aboard ship.

Milwaukee Chief Keeps Gamblers On The Run

MILWAUKEE—(NEA)—Five years ago, when big, jovial John Walter Polcyn settled himself in the upholstered police chief's chair in Milwaukee the word went around that the gamblers were going to take over.

"Over my dead body," said Polcyn, snorting cigar smoke.

At 59, six-foot Polcyn is still very much alive. When he says "there is no police graft and very little gambling in Milwaukee," he means it and can prove it. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, sized him up the other day as "one of the best police chiefs in the country."

It was Polcyn, commanding 1350 police in a city of 632,000, who put the finger on Milwaukee's million-dollar-a-year gambler, Sidney A. Brodson. When Brodson testified before the Kefauver committee, the investigators had before them Polcyn's files laboriously compiled over a period of years with the help of police in 30 other cities.

Being No. 1 is no new story for Milwaukee's 202-pound, gray-haired chief.

Seven years after Polcyn became a patrolman back in 1916, he took the examination for sergeant. He came up No. 1 in a class of 78. Five years later he took the examination for lieutenant. Again he was No. 1—among 60. His rise to the captaincy in 1934 was automatic.

When Milwaukee needed a new police chief in 1945, it wasn't a long hunt. Polcyn became Milwaukee's No. 1 cop—the city's fourth in 66 years.

Polcyn proves that if a city wants a crime-free town and an honest police force, it is there for the asking.

"My police force and I are completely free from political control," he explains. "We're honest and we persistently harass gamblers until they give up or crawl into their holes. There hasn't been an open gambling house in Milwaukee for 20 years, and we keep the few tinhorn gamblers on the run."

How does Polcyn do it? Let him explain:

"First, we're free from politics. We're secure in our job unless we don't enforce the law. We don't wink at the law for any ward boss or anyone else.

"My men and I work under a five-member, non-partisan police and fire commission set up by state law. The mayor, chosen in a non-partisan election, names the commissioners, but on a staggered basis for five-year terms. The Common Council approves the appointees."

Unlike most large cities, Milwaukee police chiefs do not come and go with mayors or parties. They are chosen by the commission for life terms.

"We crack down on violators without worrying about anyone sending us to the stocks for it."

It took Polcyn two years to crack wide open the gambling of Brodson, college graduate and lawyer, who told the Kefauver committee that he had piled up a fortune of $250,000 by betting on college basketball and other sports.

It was Polcyn who traced out-of-state long distance calls to and from Brodson's "food broker" office. With the cooperation of phone companies and police in 30 cities, Polcyn tracked down the gamblers and exposed their racket to Kefauver. Two days after Brodson testified, the Wisconsin Telephone Co. ripped out all Brodson's business phones—at Polcyn's request.

Gamblers trying to get a foothold in Milwaukee soon raise their blood pressure.

"We have harassed other gamblers by smashing down their steel reinforced doors," Polcyn recalls. "We have caught boys the gamblers sent out for sandwiches and had a detective deliver the food to them to get the evidence. We have nabbed gamblers on minor charges other than gambling so we could get an excuse to search them for evidence. We've sent men up on fire ladders to look into the gambler's windows."

"We have chased the few policy racketeers all over the county. When we can't arrest them, we run them around and make their lives miserable. But we have had to make our record without the help of strong laws which some other states have. We could crack down much harder on gamblers if we were permitted by law to tap wires, as police in New York can do."

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES

THE smartest things on two feet are the wonderful Smiteze shoes for infants and children found at the Peterson Shoe Store. Smiteze are the shoes worn exclusively by the famous Minnesota Seifert quads, and you'll find them quadrupled in style and quality, too. One pair that appealed to me particularly was styled for a back-to-school miss. The rich brown leather is fashioned into a two strap sandal. The vamp is solid with tooled criss cross lines making a smart decoration. For boys there is the boy scout type oxford with neolite or leather soles. Smiteze come in A to E widths and are moderately priced from $3.49 to $5.98. Easy on the eyes—easy on the feet—Smiteze!

I'M against segregation, but one thing I do like to see kept in its place is a woman's hair. Even if you're a gal who's always on the go, your hair will stay in place if you use Dusharme Creme. This non-sticky, non-greasy creme is so easy to apply. It comes in a small jar that you can slip in your purse or traveling bag. Gust Asp has two sizes of this famous Dusharme Creme priced at only 85c and $1.50. Dusharme is called the "pearl of hair cremes" and you'll know why once you've used it. So if your hair is at loose ends lately, be sure to stop at Gust Asp's this week!

BEIDEE, bobdee, boo! And a wave of the magic wand changes your little girl from a tomboy in jeans to a little lady in a Cinderella dress. It's all done by her Fair-y god-mother with Cinderella dresses for every age from 3 to 14. Of course your girl deserves at least one of these famous dresses in her back-to-school wardrobe. How you'll rave over the bright plaids with the plain cotton contrasts, gay braids and white collars. One pert number boasts a wide shirred bodice that's elasticized! Many are made of that wrinkle shed Dan River fabric. Bonnie Blair frocks (the Cinderella pre-teens) are just as smart. The Cinderella dresses at the Fair Store are a princely selection at a commoner's price!

HEARD one husband saying, "My wife looks as young as she did 10 years ago, but it takes her longer!" "Women paint what they used to be! Or phone me for a free delivery of high recommendations on NuEnamel products!"

THE sign read "Ladies Ready to Wear Clothes". Below it some cynical husband had written, "When weren't they?" I'm sure every woman in these parts is ready to wear one of the stunning Jean Lang wool jersey dresses found at Lauerman's! The unique styling on these jerseys shows off the beauty of the material in a really matchless way. Royal crest jewelry trims many of the frocks. The colors are subdued or gay as you wish — beige, bright red, emerald green, navy and wine. Three quarter sleeves for the most part and clever yolk detailing with tucks and contrasting materials. Ready?—Get set! Go-up to Lauerman's today!

HEARD over the bridge table: "I wouldn't say anything about her unless it was good — and, boy, is this good!" That's why I like to talk about the Stephenson Lumber Company . . . they have such a fine reputation. When you buy your building supplies there, you know you're getting quality merchandise every time. Right now they have a good supply of dry, seasoned lumber that will add character to every building purpose you have in mind. Their ROW removable windows are held in high esteem by every building contractor. You'll make a name for yourself when you build with supplies from the Stephenson Lumber Co.

GRADUATE: I'm determined to make an honest living! Prof: Well, in that field there's not much competition.—If you're anxious to earn an honest Penny, just stop down at the Penny Store. What can compete with their slick, satin twill jackets for boys? Lined in a gay, Indian printed, outing flannel; knitted cuffs and bottom. Sizes 4 to 18; only $4.98 or $5.90. Also those flashy corduroy jackets in maroon, grey or green; 10 to 18; $8.90. You've got good cents when you shop at Penny's!

Guard Shot At Home Of Detroit Unionist; Man Hasty With Gun

DETROIT—A youthful process server says maybe he "acted hastily" in shooting a police guard at the home of Emil Mazzy, secretary-treasurer of the CIO United Auto Workers.

Waldo Moon, 21, was stopped by the guard Saturday night as he tried to serve a circuit court summons on Mazzy.

Moon pulled a .22 caliber revolver and fired into the ground. The bullet ricocheted, wounding Patrolman Joseph Rozek, 25, in the scalp.

Police quoted Moon as saying he wanted to "scare" Rozek and Patrolman Alvin Morris, plainclothesmen who have been assigned to guard Mazzy since the UAW official reported threats on his life. Mazzy was not at home at the time of the shooting.

Moon, who was held for investigation of felonious assault, told police he thought the patrolmen were union bodyguards.

Tenth Street To Be Blacktopped

Bids On Snowloader, Mower Are Tabled

The concrete paving on Tenth street from Delta avenue to Lake Shore drive, badly in need of repairs, is to be blacktopped.

At a regular meeting of the city commission Monday night the bid of Paul Miller, Comstock (Mich.) contractor, in the amount of $9,200 was accepted.

Miller is now in this area doing some work for the Michigan State Highway department.

Plans call for covering the concrete slab with a two-inch layer of hot mix.

Preliminary preparation of the paving for the coating has to be done by city employees. This includes chipping the concrete at intersections so that tie-ins will be smooth and raising manholes to the new grade.

It is estimated that this work will run in the neighborhood of $1,800 bringing the total cost of the project to about $11,000.

The possibility of blacktopping one block on North Tenth from Delta to Superior avenue also was discussed. This is now a gravel street.

Bids on a tractor mower and new snowloader also were opened and considered, but they were tabled for future action.

None appeared to object to changing the classification of Lot 1, Block 4, in the South Gladstone addition from residential to commercial and action was started to do so. Final action will be taken at the next commission meeting, Sept. 10.

The city approved payment of a balance of $135.00 on the highway signs erected on Highways US-241 in South and North Gladstone. The signs cost a total of $435.00 with the Rotary, Lions and C-C each giving $100 toward them.

Commissioners also approved lighting the signs and material will be obtained and the work done, probably early next spring.

Child Safety Drive Started

'Watch Out For Kids' Used As Slogan

"How safe is my child?" The parents of children who are to begin school for the first time next month find this question their biggest worry, according to Police Chief Torval Kallerson.

"It is with the beginning of school," he declares, "that the child most often breaks away from his parents' round-the-clock supervision for the first time and is exposed to the dangers of the street."

That the parents are justified in their fears is borne out by National Safety Council figures which show that throughout the country more than 1,400 children 5 through 14 years old were killed as pedestrians or bicycle riders by motor vehicles in 1950.

Since September and the beginning of school is a crucial period to the safety of youngsters, it has been selected for the State Safety Commission's month long program of traffic safety education concerned with protecting children. The State Safety Commission's September slogan "Watch Out For Kids" is directed at the motorist, upon whose shoulders most of the responsibility for child safety rests.

Other phases of the program will emphasize the child's own responsibility in traffic, the parents' necessity for wise safety education at home, and ways in which schools can increase their contribution to the student's safety. The police department has been the telephone

feed salt to the squirrels?

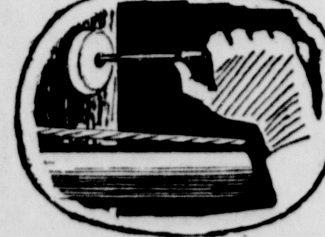

Not only that, Michigan Bell inspectors go around periodically to make sure there are salt discs along telephone cables wherever squirrels play. Seems a waste of time and money, doesn't it?

Here's the answer:

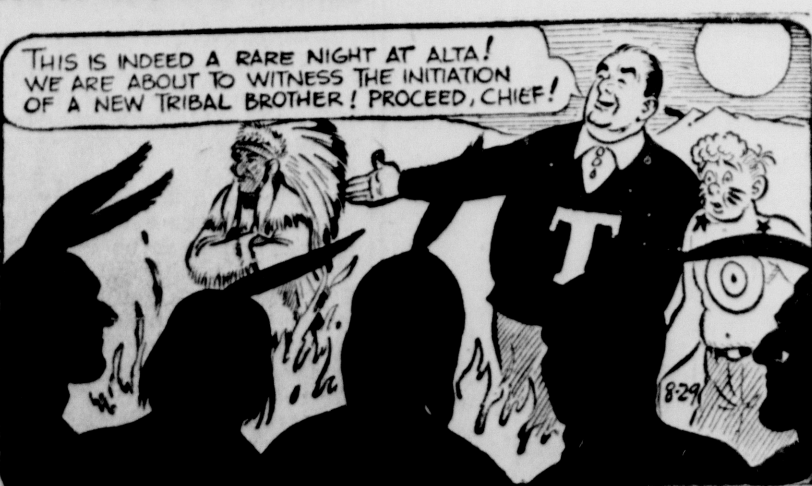

Before Michigan Bell put up the salt discs, the squirrels chewed telephone cables. They ate right through the heavy lead covering, exposing wires inside to moisture and other damage. When it rained, service was disrupted and costly repairs were necessary.

Thinking perhaps the squirrels were looking for salt, telephone men fastened salt discs to poles and trees wherever cables had been chewed. After that the squirrels ate the salt and left the cable alone.

The salt discs are cheap. Yet they avoid costly damage to the telephone company, and prevent service interruptions for telephone customers.

Freckles And His Friends

Michigan Bell goes to great lengths to keep the cost of telephone service down. In every branch of the business, every penny that can be saved is saved to give you the best possible service for the least money. That is one of many ways in which—

Defer Action On Flasher Signal

Watchman Wanted at Soo Crossing Also

Signing of an agreement with the Soo Line railroad for an automatic flasher signal at the North Houghton avenue-Soo Line crossing was again deferred by the city council at its regular meeting Monday night.

Action was deferred pending the outcome of another effort by the city to retain the services of a watchman at the crossing in conjunction with the proposed flasher signal.

Letters outlining this request were ordered dispatched to the Michigan public service commission and the Soo Line.

William Hood, city attorney, told councilmen that the public service commission has recommended that an automatic flasher signal be installed at the crossing and that the cost of it be split on an equal basis between the city and railroad.

An agreement presented by the Soo Line several months ago providing for installation of the signal on a 50-50 cost basis and also providing for the elimination of watchman service was again read by council members. Current cost of the flasher signal is estimated at about $8,000.00 to $10,000.

Members of the city board again stressed the heavy rail traffic at the four-track crossing and urged that every effort be made to retain watchman service during the day and early evening, even if a flasher signal is installed.

One woman was killed and two injured in a crossing accident on North Houghton about a year and a half ago. Investigation at the time revealed that the accident occurred despite the fact that the watchman was on duty and tried to wave the approaching car down with his signal lantern.

Flasher signals are now in operation at other important railroad crossings in the city—the Ann Arbor and Soo Line on Deer street and the Ann Arbor on Chippewa avenue.

City Prepares New Water Plan

Will Cost Less Than Engineer Estimates

It was announced at the regular city council meeting Monday night that the city had prepared its own tentative plans for reconstruction of the municipal water supply system.

The new plans will be submitted to the Michigan state health department for approval. It was reported that the cost of the project under the city-made plans will be substantially less than estimates prepared by the Francis Engineering company, of Saginaw.

Pending approval by the health department the new estimate was not disclosed.

It was indicated that the new plans provide for the construction of a pump house at Indian River near the intake, and pumping the water directly into the city distribution system. Water would be backed up into the storage tank at the intersection of Deer street and Weston avenue after municipal mains were full, if the proposed revised plan is used.

To effect further economies much of the work will be done by the city itself, it was pointed out.

Water now runs down the gravity main to the pumping station at the corner of River and Weston, and is distributed to the city system from the storage tank on top of the water tower. Pumps are used to lift the water from the gravity line to the storage tank, and do not pump directly into the distribution system.

New plans also provide for the future construction of a filtration plant near the intake, it was announced.

Purchase Of 40 Tons Of Chloride Approved By City

Purchase of 25 tons of calcium chloride and 15 tons of sodium chloride (salt) was approved by the city council at its regular meeting Monday night.

City Maager H. W. Heideman was authorized to make the purchase at the best price and best freight rates obtainable. The material will be used on municipal streets during the winter to eliminate ice conditions.

No action was taken on proposed traffic and dog ordinances, but it was indicated that both would receive consideration at the next regular meeting on Sept. 10.

Arrangements also were made for the council's labor committee, composed of Walter Burns and A. W. Heideman, to meet with representatives of Local No. 1196, Union of State, County and Municipal Employees, A. F. of L. on Thursday evening, Sept. 6, at 7 o'clock. Discussion of a wage increase is scheduled.

Win Shooting Trophy Again

Local Guards Excel On Rifle Range

The Manistique National Guard company won the Col Milford marksmanship trophy for the second consecutive year at Camp Grayling in August, it is announced by Capt. E. J. Doyle, commanding officer.

The trophy, a plaque, was first offered last year to the Upper Peninsula company showing greatest proficiency on the rifle range.

Manistique Guardsmen, with nearly every man attending Camp Grayling qualifying, won the plaque last year and duplicated the feat at the 1951 encampment.

Guardsmen competed with the M-1 and 30 calibre carbine rifles for the trophy on Aug. 16, 17 and 23. Both slow and rapid fire were featured at ranges of 200, 300 and 500 yards.

Local Guardsmen, who returned Saturday from the two weeks' encampment, also participated with an "aggressor" force on Aug. 21 during a simulated enemy attack. Manistique combat engineers operated in the maneuver area setting up road blocks and laying mine fields. The mock military action continued into Aug. 22.

No Negligence Seen In Crash

Inquest Held In Roberts' Death

A coroner's jury yesterday afternoon returned a verdict that there was no evidence of criminal negligence in the auto accident early last Saturday morning which resulted in the death of George Jacob Roberts, 47, of Cooks.

Roberts, one of three occupants of the car, suffered a fractured neck and a bad head cut. He died about noon Saturday at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital.

The accident occurred on an abandoned stretch of old US-2 near the Cooks corners. The car, failing to make a sharp curve, ran off the road, crashed against a tree and rolled over.

William Parrish, 36, of Cooks, driver of the car, was thrown over the Roberts and Francis M. Neadow, 22, also of Cooks, were thrown into the rear seat by the crash. All three had been riding in the front seat, with Neadow in the middle between the driver and Roberts. They were returning to Cooks from Garden Corners.

Neadow at first told state police that he was driver of the car but Parrish, who had no operator's license, later admitted he was at the wheel.

Witnesses who testified were Trooper William Scales of the Michigan state police, Vern Linderoth, photographer, Francis M. Neadow, William Parrish, and Bertil Lund and Allen Deuparo who were occupants of the car following the Parrish machine.

Members of the jury were Harry Secore, Henry Brolin, William Wedegartner, Harvey McLaughlin, Jack Williams and William L. Norton. Edward V. Jackson, coroner, presided at the inquest, held in the office of William J. Sheahan, prosecuting attorney.

The Kid Lays Title On Line

Faces Graham In Welterweight Go

NEW YORK.—(P)—Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, confident and at the peak of his form, is a hefty 13 to 5 favorite to whip Billy Graham of New York in their 15-round title bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Although he lost one split decision to Graham and won the same way in the return, the sleek flashy Cuban has been made the big choice on the strength of recent form. He is riding a ten-fight win streak. Graham, once a very active campaigner, has had only one tuneup this year.

This will be Gavilan's first title defense since he won the crown by trouncing Johnny Bratton in the Garden on May 18. A crowd of around 9,000 is expected to pay around $40,000 at a $12 top.

CBS will network both the broadcast and the telecast. The fight will start at 9 p. m. (EST).

Should Be Honey

This will be the New Yorker's first try over the championship route. Gavilan went 15 in a losing title fight with Ray Robinson, then the welterweight boss, in Philadelphia, July 11, 1949.

For those who go for boxing science, tonight's show should be a honey. Graham boxes in the classic style, featuring a fast left jab and a short right to the body. The Kid, fast with his feet and hands, depends heavily on his left hook and flashy left-right combinations. He doesn't use the bolo a show punch—much any more.

Unless one of the boys cuts badly, the scrap should go the distance. Graham has never been stopped or even knocked down. Gavilan was floored only once—by Ike Williams—but has never been counted out.

Louisville forged a five-game winning chain with a 3-2 decision over Toledo. Ralph Poole, third Mudhen pitcher, issued a game-winning walk with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Indianapolis pushed over four ninth-inning runs but was checked in time for Columbus to muster a 10-7 decision.

St. Paul rallied for a run in the last of the ninth to jolt Minneapolis 2-1.

Familiar Faces Will Be Missing

Top Amateur Golfers Face National Test

NEW YORK.—(P)—Many familiar faces will be missing when the pick of the nation's amateur golfers gather at Saucon valley in Bethlehem, Pa., 12 days hence to battle for the national championship.

Pipe-smoking Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., won't be there. He failed to qualify yesterday in the Metropolitan trials at Westbury, N. Y.

Former Walker cup star Johnny Dawson of Hollywood, Calif., suffered a similar fate at Long Beach, Calif., where he lost in a playoff. He can compete only if one of the successful men fails to show up.

Didn't Report

Another of Uncle Sam's old international representatives, Bruce McCormick, didn't try for a berth after entering at Long Beach. Chuck Kocsis and Fred Kammer, two ex-Walker cup members from Detroit, didn't report for the trials at Detroit.

The major casualty of the 32 scattered sectional tests, which reduced an entry list of 1,425 to a round 200, was Billows, who lost to Johnny Goodman in the finals at Portland, Ore., in 1937, to Bud Ward at Glenview, Ill., in 1939 and to Willie Turnesa in Memphis in 1948.

The Poughkeepsie campaigner chopped out an erratic 72-82-154 to miss out by two strokes. Frank Strafaci of Gordon City, led the Metropolitan trials with 143.

Dawson shot himself a 74-77-151 at Long Beach where Jim Ferrier of that city was low with 142.

Milwaukee Boy

An army air force officer, Capt. Fred Moseley of San Antonio, Tex., and the captain of Notre Dame's golf team, Tommy Veech of Milwaukee, led national qualifying with red-hot scores of 134.

Moseley bracketed a pair of 67's over the Bra Burn Country club in Houston for a ten-under-par performance. Veech put together a 70-64 over the par 70 Blue Mound Country club at Milwaukee, his last round setting a new course record.

Veech announced, however, he wouldn't play in the national because he had to return to school. His place will be taken by the alternate, Billy Sixty, jr., also of Milwaukee.

Defending champion Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N. Y., was exempt from qualifying along with Walker cup captain Willie Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., and four other past champions.

Harold Cloutier Tennis Champ

Nineteen-year-old Harold Cloutier clinaxed the Upper Peninsula-Northern Wisconsin tennis tournament here last night by handing favored Louis Mikulovich of Traunik a straight 6-2, 6-3 setback in the singles finals.

Former Escanaba high school cager and one of the city's ablest tennis players of the last few seasons, Cloutier played steady ball to whip the Traunik star, brother of the tennis coach at the University of Michigan.

A large crowd was on hand to witness the conclusion of the tournament. The singles finals were delayed because of fog and rainy weather that slowed the tourney play considerably.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Duke Snider, Dodgers—Batted in both Brooklyn's runs in their 3-1 triumph over Cincinnati with a single in the fourth and a two-run homer in the eighth.

Pitching—Early Wynn, Indians—Gave up five hits in besting Philadelphia's Sam Zoldak as the Indians nipped the A's 1-0 on Bob Kennedy's seventh inning home run.

'Tournament Of Champions' Slated Here This Weekend

Top softball teams from throughout the Upper Peninsula will compete in a "Tournament of Champions" here Saturday and Sunday.

Eligible to compete will be all teams which have won a championship of some form. A Upper Peninsula, district or city crown will be awarded.

The championship need not have been won this season, providing the same team won it in the past whether under the same sponsor or not.

Among the entries already received are Northern Plumbing of Marquette, Ishpeming CCI, White Birch, Ev's Bar and Paper Mill of Escanaba, Kipling of Gladstone and Carney.

Expect More Entries

All these teams saw action in the recent Upper Peninsula finals tournament at Iron Mountain. Harnischfeger and Power & Light of Escanaba and Liberty Loans of Iron Mountain are considering entry in the state softball tournament at Flint and may not be available for the Tournament of Champions.

Entry has not closed and the list is expected to swell to near 20 teams by this weekend.

It is the first such tournament to be sponsored in the Peninsula and it may be worked into an annual post-finals tourney.

Shift Finals Of Oldtimer Tourney

Finals of the Oldtimer softball tournament may be changed from Sunday to allow play in the Tournament of Champions tournament to be held here, officials announced today.

In tonight's Oldtimer games, St. Thomas plays Birds Eye at 7 p. m. and Eagles play St. Joe Boosters at 8:15.

Semi-finals are scheduled Friday.

Pitchers Brilliant In Yesterday's Ball Games

By JOE REICHLER (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Is this a pitchers' year or does Ted Williams know something when he insists the ball is dead?

Look what happened yesterday. Early Wynn protected Cleveland's one-game lead over the New York Yankees in the American league by besting Philadelphia's Sam Zoldak in a 1-0 hurling duel. A home run by Bob Kennedy settled the issue.

Three More Shutouts

Brooklyn increased its National league lead to six games as rookie Clem Labine outpitched Cincinnati's Howie Fox, 3-1, while Pittsburgh's Howie Pollet blanked Sheldon Jones and the runner-up New York Giants, 2-0, to end their 16-game winning streak.

Max Lanier of the St. Louis Cardinals shut out Bubba Church and the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-0, and Omar Lown of the Chicago Cubs whitewashed Chet Nichols and the Boston Braves, 1-0.

The highest run total was made by the Yankees, who defeated the St. Louis Browns, 7-5 in 10 innings and they needed 13 walks by Tommy Byrne. The Detroit Tigers nipped the third place Boston Red Sox, 5-4. Chicago's White Sox took a 4-3 decision from Washington in 10 innings.

Few Hits

Not one of the 16 teams got as many as 10 hits. It was the same story on Monday when four shutouts including two three-hitters and a pair of two-hitters were pitched although six teams were idle.

Altogether 79 shutouts have been hurled thus far in the National to only 81 all last year. The American is only one short of last year's entire shutout output of 62.

A seventh inning home run by Kennedy gave Cleveland its 12th straight triumph over the Athletics. It was the second time the Indians have beaten Zoldak, a former teammate, 1-0.

Top Attendance

A crowd of 23,573 watched Wynn register his 15th victory. That brought Cleveland's home attendance to 1,501,187, tops in the majors. Wynn gave up five hits to four for Zoldak.

Byrne's 13th walk, a pair of fielder's choices, a long fly by Joe DiMaggio and a single by Charlie Silveira furnished the winning Yankee runs in the 10th. Bob Kuzava, fourth Yankee hurler, was credited with the victory.

Louis Signs To Fight Marciano

NEW YORK.—(P)—An old story of the ring—the ambitious newcomer vs. the comebacking veteran—will be enacted again in the polo grounds on Oct. 11 when undefeated Rocky Marciano takes on Joe Louis in a ten round bout.

Promoter Jim Norris, hot after this match for some time, clinched it yesterday when he got Marciano's handlers to agree to take 15 per cent of the net gate.

Louis will get 45 per cent. Norris set a $25 top for the fight and said he expected it to gross over $250,000. It probably will not be televised.

Crack At Champ

The winner will move behind Ezzard Charles for the next crack at champion Jersey Joe Walcott. Marciano, who will be 27 on Sept. 1, has been fighting pro only three years. 32 of them by knockouts. He flattened rugged Rex Layne in six rounds on July 12.

Monday night in Boston he kayoed fat Freddie Besore in four rounds. Louis stopped Besore in four, too, but he didn't knock him down.

The bomber's last outing was on Aug. 15 when he outpointed Jimmy Bivins in a dreary effort. The ex-champ weighed 203½. He will aim to weigh around 207 or 208 for Marciano, his ninth comeback fight.

Rocky scaled 187½ for Besore.

GOLD RACKETEERS

One of the newest forms of criminal is the gold racketeer, who takes advantage of the gullible by buying old gold trinkets far below their actual value. These use an ordinary penny for a pennyweight, whereas gold is measured by troy weight for all purposes of international exchange.

Red Sox Rookie Horrible As Tigers Grab 5-4 Win

DETROIT.—(P)—If the Boston Red Sox have rookie Mel Hoderlein at third base for today's game with the Detroit Tigers, it'll be because too many regulars still are on the injury list. Hoderlein was about as awkward as a cub bear trying to play the base yesterday. His errors gave the Tigers the game 5-4.

It was an undeserved defeat for the Red Sox ace pitcher, Mel Parnell (15-10).

During five years in the league Parnell has defeated the Tigers 13 times. The Tigers won only their fifth victory over the stylist yesterday.

White Winner

The victory went to Tiger relief pitcher Hal White. He hurled two and two-thirds innings of hitless ball for his second win of the season against four losses.

Here's how Hoderlein, recently imported by the Red Sox from their Louisville Farm Club, played the role of goat:

In the second inning the rookie committed a three-base throwing error on George Kell's grounder. He made a wild heave into right field. Kell scored a minute later on Johnny Groth's single. A single by Don Kolloway and an infield out gave the Tigers another run.

In the third inning the Tigers picked up another run on Hoot Evers' single, Hoderlein's second error and a single by Kell. The rookie muffed a chance for an easy double-play.

Interference

In the fourth inning Hoderlein

ninth straight to the league leaders. Until the Reds tallied in the sixth, they had gone 32 consecutive innings without a run.

Army Opens Practice Today Minus Entire First String Grid Stars

WEST POINT, N. Y. — (AP) — Army football practice opens today, and Coach Earl (Red) Blaik's biggest immediate problem is to get acquainted with the young men who will block and carry the ball for him this fall.

Gone—wiped out by the recent exam-cribbing scandal — is the powerful squad that won No. 2 national ranking last year and that was figured to finish equally high this season.

In its place is a young, inexperienced varsity squad of 35, composed almost entirely of members of the 1950 Plebe team. It's a sophomore team playing a man-sized major schedule.

Start From Scratch

Blaik and his aides caught only a brief glimpse of those athletes in spring practice. He must build a big time team from scratch and he has just a month to do the job.

The first game of a tough nine-game schedule is Sept. 29 with Villanova.

If the Cadets had to play a game tomorrow the starting line-up would be something like this:

Pos. Player Yr. Wgt.

E. Lowell Sisson, Waterloo, Ia. 2 185

E. Bob Mishak, Union, N. J. 2 190

T. Bob Guidera, Westbury, N. Y. 2 200

T. Myron Rose, Williston, N.D. 2 195

G. Leroy Lunn, Spring Valley, N. Y. 2 191

G. Gerald Lodge, Cleveland 2 195

C. Rex Shain, Iowa City, Ia. 2 205

QB. Fred Meyers, Enid, Okla. 2 178

HB. Tom Bell, New York 2 184

HB. Peter Manus, Brooklyn, N. Y. 2 175

FB. Bill Hart 2 152

In that lineup, no man has had a single game of varsity experience.

After Villanova Sept. 29 come Northwestern, Dartmouth, Harvard, Columbia, Southern California, The Citadel, Pennsylvania and Navy in that order.

State June 30 Deficit Doubled

LANSING — (P)—A preliminary report shows that the state's total deficit was about $41,100,000 on June 30, State Controller Robert F. Steadman said.

The deficit, which stood at $21,111,232 on June 30, 1950, was increased another $19,800,000 in the fiscal year ending last June 30, the report of department of administration accounting division showed.

The last fiscal year was the fourth in which expenditures from the state general fund exceeded revenues. On June 30, 1948, there was a surplus of $83,000,000 in the general fund.

Steadman said that in the 1950-51 year total operating expenses were about $475,300,000, compared to $443,200,000 the previous year. Most of the increase was in payments benefitting local units of government, the controller said.

Revenues in the last fiscal year totaled about $460,100,000, as against $402,500,000 the previous year. The revenue increase was due chiefly to a rise in sales tax collections.

Steadman said that the state has still been able to pay its bills by using reserves totaling some $47,700,000.

Will Set Up Press On State Boundary

NEEDLES, Calif. — (P) — The publisher of the Desert Rat Scrap Book has leased the southeast corner of California and the southwest corner of Nevada. He plans to set up his press on the state line so half of the papers will be printed in each state.

Harry Oliver acquired the lease from the Fort Mohave Indian tribal council. It covers a 1,000-foot strip of land one mile long. With Arizona a stone's throw away, Oliver believes he has found the ideal location for telling tall tales of the three states.
